Meet the Owners

Glen Garrett is best known as the founder of The Grasshoppers. Bluegrass Unlimited named their first album "one of 2000's top ten albums". After the bands breakup in 2001, he played with Ronnie Bowman's "The Committee" and Chris Jones' "Coalition". As a prolific songwriter he has penned songs like "Starry Night" for The Infamous Stringdusters (IBMA 2007 Album Of The Year), and co-wrote "The Price Of Admission" for Bradley Walker (IBMA 2007 Male Vocalist). As a sound engineer Glen has spent decades on both sides of the microphone giving him a superior advantage when it comes to knowing what the audience AND the performers are listening for...Sparkling Instrumentals and Dynamic Vocals at a pleasing level without the proverbial dreaded feedback. He is committed to "The Sound Of Excellence".

Sara Rayman has both a formal education and real world experience in sound reinforcement that sets her apart from the crowd. For years she ran sound in a number of theaters in Branson, MO up to 3 shows a day, 6 days a week for artist such as Pam Tillis, Larry Gatlin, The Beach Boys and more. She also designed lighting, stage managed, and video engineered for several shows. Add Sara Rayman's comprehensive experience, and Magic Media has a combination that can't be beat. It's always good news to see that they're working a gig that I'm booked on, and I have no hesitation in recommending them to anyone in need of the very best."*
